

Pie Chart Report

Introduction

This report presents a pie chart that represents the distribution of four categories. The chart provides a visual representation of the data, which can be useful for quick analysis and decision-making.

Analysis

The pie chart above shows that category C has the highest proportion, followed by category B, A, and D. This distribution indicates that category C is the most significant contributor among the four.